

Data protection statement on the processing of professional personal data within the framework of activities governed by the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds

Protecting your privacy is of the utmost importance to the European Patent Office (EPO). We are committed to protecting your personal data and ensuring respect for data subjects' rights when performing our tasks and providing our services. All data of a personal nature that identify you directly or indirectly will be processed lawfully, fairly and with due care.

The processing operations described below are subject to the EPO Data Protection Rules (DPR).

The information in this statement is provided in accordance with Articles 16 and 17 DPR.

1. What is the nature and purpose of the processing operation?

This data protection statement relates to the processing of personal data within the framework of activities governed by the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds.

This data protection statement explains the way in which members of the Administration of the Reserve Funds must make full and fair disclosure to the RFPSS Compliance Officer on an ongoing and timely basis of all matters that could reasonably be expected to impair their independence and objectivity or interfere with their duties in the Administration of the Reserve Funds, in particular if private dealings are undertaken, including on behalf of third parties, in investments that are being considered for the RFPSS ("relevant instruments").

Members of the Administration of the Reserve Funds must ensure that disclosures are truthful, accurate and complete as required by the EPO's disclosure management app (hereinafter referred to as the conflicts of interest prevention app), designed for declaring "supplementary activities and other potential conflicts of interest".

Members of the Administration of the Reserve Funds shall promptly disclose to the RFPSS Compliance Officer via the conflicts of interest prevention app any situation that gives rise to a real, apparent or potential conflict of interest, including:

- a financial investment in relevant instruments
- personal business relationships
- participation in investment clubs
- mandates for the securities accounts of third parties
- family or personal ties with the owners or managers of business relations
- affiliation to a regulatory body

The RFPSS Compliance Officer will monitor and assess private dealings undertaken by members of the Administration of the Reserve Funds on their own behalf and on behalf of third parties in relevant instruments after they have been reported.

In the course of their general monitoring of private dealings by members of the Administration of the Reserve Funds the RFPSS Compliance Officer may, in the event of justified interest, require each member of the Administration of the Reserve Funds to supply complete information on their private dealings involving securities and other assets and rights.

The Compliance Assurance Officer of the EPO will deal with the dealings, notifications and declarations of interest that are a matter of compliance for the RFPSS Compliance Officer, and will additionally review once a year the Fund Administrator's private dealings and those undertaken on behalf of third parties.

In cases of suspected non-compliance, the RFPSS Compliance Officer asks the staff member for comment. Inadequate responses are referred by the RFPSS Compliance Officer to the Fund Administrator and the staff member's line manager.

In the event of suspected breach of compliance with the obligations under the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds, the case may be referred to Directorate Ethics and Compliance in accordance with the Implementing Rules for Articles 21, 21A and 93, paragraph 2, of the Service Regulations. Under the Implementing Rules, the referral must include all information which may reasonably be expected to have a bearing on the case and will be made as soon as the allegation or indications of misconduct become apparent. Directorate Ethics and Compliance will inform the data subject.

Declarations to the Supervisory Board of failure to comply with the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds must be made by the Compliance Assurance Officer.

This data protection statement relates to the processing of personal data of EPO staff and third parties for the purpose of handling cases of non-compliance/inadequate responses under the Service Regulations.

Personal data are processed within the framework of the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds.

The processing is not intended to be used for any automated decision-making, including profiling.

Your personal data will not be transferred to recipients outside the EPO which are not covered by Article 8(1), (2) and (5) DPR unless an adequate level of protection is ensured. In the absence of an adequate level of protection, a transfer can only take place if appropriate safeguards have been put in place and enforceable data subject rights and effective legal remedies for data subjects are available, or if derogations for specific situations as per Article 10 DPR apply.

Personal data received in paper form are stored in a physical safe with a specific code at EPO premises and are accessible by the RFPSS Compliance Officer.

For systems hosted on EPO premises, the following basic security measures generally apply:

- user authentication and access control (e.g. role-based access control to the systems and network, principles of need-to-know and least privilege)
- logical security hardening of systems, equipment and network

- physical protection: EPO access controls, additional access controls to data centre, policies on locking offices
- transmission and input controls (e.g. audit logging, systems and network monitoring)
- security incident response: 24/7 monitoring for incidents, on-call security expert

In principle, the EPO has adopted a paperless policy management system; however, if paper files containing personal data need to be stored on EPO premises, they are locked in a secure location with a restricted access.

However, Article 15(2) DPR provides that this period may be extended by two further months where necessary in view of the complexity and number of requests received. We will inform you of any such delay.

7. What is the legal basis for processing your data?

Personal data are processed on the basis of Article 5(b) DPR, which permits processing that "is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject". This legal obligation is laid down in the Code of Conduct for the Administration of the Reserve Funds with reference to the Service Regulations.
